she/her/hers

Project and Advocacy Coordinator

Vanessa is a third-year student in Spalding University's Clinical Psychology (PsyD) program. She grew up in Long Island, New York and loves to move to new places. Vanessa has professional experience working in psychological and mental-health related advocacy in Kentucky, and at the National level through KPA and APA. She has a passion for social justice and advocacy work. Vanessa completed the KPA Leadership Academy in 2022; here she planned, organized, and hosted a continuing education event for teachers, mental health professionals, and administrators on trauma informed care in education. She also served as the Vice-President of Graduate students on Spalding University's student government team. Vanessa has spent the last year working as a student psychologist at a local k-12 school, primarily doing therapy with students from various backgrounds and walks of life. In her free time, she enjoys doing yoga, hanging out with friends, finding waterfalls, spending time with her partner, and playing with her dog, Thor.
