

Amanda Wyrick, Ph.D.

Academic Representative | Term Expires: 12/31/2021

I am an Associate Professor of Psychology at Berea College. I currently teach a breadth of psychology courses, including all courses on clinical and counseling information and skills. My primary research interest is compassion fatigue, burnout, and resilience in college faculty and staff.

Diversity Statement: My identity as a queer woman informs the work I do on campus. I am dedicated to advancing faculty and staff knowledge of queer issues and student development through campus trainings and living an open and authentic life.
